

“Disability is part of being human,
especially if you're lucky enough to live a long life”

MJ Lace

THE JOURNEY SO FAR

- 2003 - Founded Learning Societies - giving support to Higher Education students with physical and learning disabilities
- 2007 - Obtained MA in Education, specialising in literacy difficulties
- 2012 - Launched YELL SOS, a charity to help those with autism and aspergers
- 2018 - Obtained diploma in Integrative Counselling
- 2019 - Obtained Doctorate in Education, Disability studies
- 2020 - Died for 3 minutes
- 2021 - Commenced Degree in Social Work
- 2021 - Founded Accessability Partners, helping disabled people gain Access to Work grants.

MOTIVATIONAL TALKS

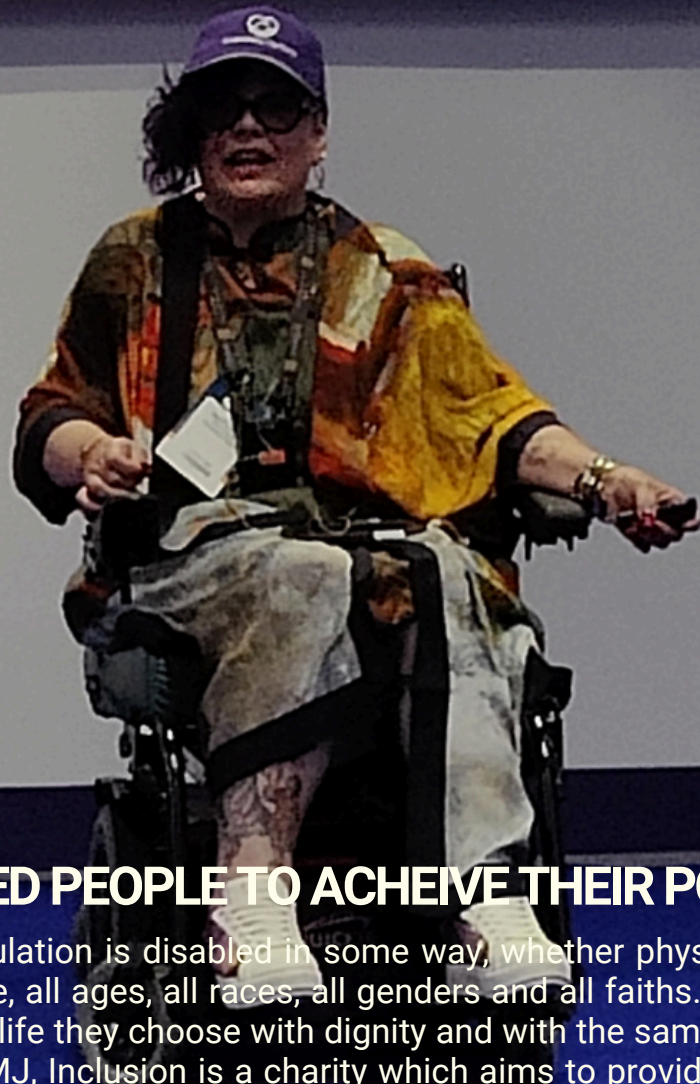

MJ Lace is a disability advocate, educator, coach and influencer. Disabled herself, she works tirelessly to foster an inclusive world where everybody (regardless of their abilities and disabilities) can live and work on equal terms and with dignity.

She has spoken all over the world on the topic of inclusion, campaigned for improved services and even completed a hand-cycling marathon to raise funds to support the work of her Inclusion charity.

Soon to be qualified as a social worker, she has presented to the British Association of Social Workers on their role in inclusion and supporting people into work and at the AccessAbilities Expo in Dubai.

TOPICS COVERED

- Equality, Diversity and Inclusion in the workplace
- The power of the 'Purple Pound'
- Empowering teams to recognise and embrace diversity
- Inspiring Inclusion at every level of an organisation
- Essentials of Inclusive Leadership
- Making an Impact

SUPPORTING DISABLED PEOPLE TO ACHIEVE THEIR POTENTIAL

Nearly a quarter of the UK population is disabled in some way, whether physical or mental. They come from all walks of life, all ages, all races, all genders and all faiths. And every one of them has the right to live the life they choose with dignity and with the same opportunities offered to others. Founded by MJ, Inclusion is a charity which aims to provide practical and emotional support to ensure that every disabled person is fully included in society.

For those ready to work, her company, Accessibility Partners, helps people get government funding and support so they can fairly access the world of work.